

POUNCE'S SUMMER VACATION MAD LIB

SEE AN EXAMPLE AT SUNWESTKIDS.COM/CONTESTS.

It was a _____(1. adjective) summer day. At only 10:30 in the morning, the temperature was already _____(2. number) degrees! Pounce was bored and decided this was a perfect day to go _____(3. verb ending -ing), so he called his friend, Paws. "Do you want to come over to my _____(4. noun) and _____(5. verb)? My mom bought a new _____(6. noun) that fits _____(7. number) ocelots!"

"Sure! I just got new swim trunks that have _____(8. plural noun) on them!" said Paws.

The _____(9. adjective) friends put on their sunscreen and swim trunks, grabbed their towels, and _____(10. past-tense verb) out to the pool. Pounce's mom was really _____(11. adjective) and brought them each a popsicle.

All of a sudden, a _____(12. adjective) bee flew down and started _____(13. verb ending -ing) all around Paws, trying to get a taste of his _____(adjective) treat! Paws was so terrified that he _____(15. past-tense verb) straight into the pool, splashing _____(16. noun) everywhere and dropping his popsicle on the ground.

With all that splashing, the bee got _____(17. adjective) and _____(18. past tense verb) away. The two cubs helped each other clean up the _____(19. adjective) mess, and spent the rest of the day doing _____(20. adjective) tricks into the pool. Later, Pounce's mom made them _____(21. food noun) for dinner and gave them one more _____(22. adjective) treat to make up for the one Paws lost and to thank Pounce for helping clean up the _____(23. noun).
